Crystal Dreaming What is it?

Crystal Dreaming is an advanced crystal healing technique which uses the power of crystals for profound emotional, physical, and spiritual healing. Crystals are laid around the head and body in a mandala formation. The special arrangement of these crystals opens your superconscious mind and facilitates a deep meditative state where you can perceive past life experiences and journey through all the dimensions. Your own body will "speak" to you and help you to unlock and completely release the origins of fear, pain, and trauma held in your own cellular memory.

What can you experience through Crystal Dreaming?

- Clarification of life purpose or dharma
- Profound emotional, physical and spiritual healing
- Experience a true state of bliss
- Reconnection to your Divine Higher Spiritual Self
- Release of present or past life trauma
- Release of phobias and fears
- Release of blockages, stagnancy, including negative energies and entities
- Understanding the root cause of disease or imbalance and receive guidance on how to achieve complete healing
- Understanding and unlocking of past life abilities, talents, and gifts
- Connect with spiritual guides or angels for messages
- Upgrades and activations for your energy body

Crystal Dreaming Facilitating an altered state

Using a unique and sacred mandala of crystals placed around the crown, you will learn how to facilitate an altered state of consciousness for others. They may experience a profound journey into the superconscious, oneness and bliss, where emotional, physical and spiritual healing may occur, instantly.

You will learn how to release all blocks to achieving this state, including the release of any blockages or limitations, cellular memories, past or present life trauma, negative energies or earthbound spirits or entities or any aspect of your clients being that requires more love and understanding. After releasing these blockages, your client may meet their higher self, spirit guides, spiritual teachers, Ascended Masters, Angels and other highly evolved beings of light. You will assist your client's empowerment with love and respect for every aspect of their being.

These techniques open all channels to the spirit world and beyond, facilitating inter-dimensional travel anywhere in time and space, whilst remaining fully conscious in this reality.

You will receive a clear understanding of the spirit world, a realm that is often misunderstood and in contemporary Western culture.

You will be working from Raym's book "Alchemy of Crystals" a copy of which is included in the course fee.

You will both give and receive a Crystal Dreaming session during this course.

On completion of this course you will be ready, after further practice and after you have acquired your own crystals, to facilitate sessions for others.
